Kids may get shortchanged in nedal giveaway

By Roger Boye

ens of thousands of children—including some in Illinois—will of a free medalreceive lion next month commemorating Man on Jan. 20, oral holiday Martin Luther King day Jan. 20, 1986, the first ral holiday honoring a federal holiday black American. But the organ federal holish black American.

But the organization coordinating the giveaway likely will fail to meet its initial goal of distributing a medallion to 49 million U.S. school children [in kindergarten through 12th grade].

"We still don't have enough sponsors to cover all the restant of the property of the school of the sponsors to cover all the restant of the school of the sponsors to cover all the restant of the school of the scho

"We still don't have enough sponsors to cover all the requests [for medallions]," said Leonard Arzt, who is working on the project authorized by the Martin Luther King Jr. Center for Nonviolent Social Change, Inc. As of early December, the center had received letters asking for at least 3½ million medallions. The center and the Alberta Mint—a Canadian company

Mint—a Canadian company that will produce the medals—are continuing to solicit donations. Each $1 medals—are continuing to solicit donations. Each $1 given by a company or civic organization pays for one nickel-plated medal and literature describing King's life; about 15 percent of the contributed money goes to the King center.

In Illinois, a council formed

King center.

In Illinois, a council formed by Gov. James Thompson is informing school officials of the medallion program. Public or private schools—or wanting the medalion program. Public or private schools—or would-be donors—wanting more information should write to the King center at 450 Fifth St., N.W., 10th floor, Washington, D.C. 20001. The phone number is 202-626-1230 [ask for Arzt or Yoram Tanay]

Tanay]. their money be used to buy medals for children attending a certain class, school or district. ● In yet another Statue of Liberty fund-raising project, a Philadelphia company is selling medallions that inanother Statue of selling medallions clude bits of copper clude bits of copper the statue during during current restoration.

taken

Each keepsake depicts current restoration.

Each keepsake depicts a close-up of Liberty's upraised arm, with the torch's flame covered by authentic copper from the statue, polished to its original luster. At least 15 percent of the money from each medal sale will help pay for repairs to the statue and to immigration facilities on Ellis Island.

Ellis Island. Costs per specimen are $41 for silver-plated, $57.50 for one-ounce silver, and $1,000 for 1.1-ounce platinum [prices include postage and handling] ling].

To order, write to the Liberty Commemorative Project, Ten Penn Center, Suite 1000, Philadelphia, Pa. 19103.